WEA COURSES 2007/8

Venue: Rose House, Barnes High Street

Art History: Old Myths in New Clothes. Tutor – Richard Pesstell. It was in the 19th Century that the arts in Britain first dealt explicitly with the issues of economics, class, gender and sex. These social issues are now seen by many as a necessary part of society's cultural concerns. We shall study how the art of this period largely set the agenda up to the present day.

Literature Memory, War and the Postwar

World. Tutor – Patricia Sweeney

How do writers distinguish between the war remembered and the war imagined? Is there a difference between historical, literary and autobiographical strands of writing in literary engagements with war? We investigate texts dealing with the two World Wars, Palestine and Vietnam. Writers discussed include Remaerque, Sassoon, Auden, Green, Ondaatje, Grant, Waters, Heaney and Duffy.
